THE United States Supreme Court at Washington decided a case of general interest to shippers the other day. The question raised by the case was whether the railroad company, in the absence of a special contract, was responsible to a shipper for the safety of freight after such freight had been transferred by it to another railroad company for transportation to its place of destination. The Court holds: 1. That in accordance with common law rule the carrier is liable only to the extent of his own route and safe storage and delivery to the next carrier. 2. That the ticket or bill of lading given to the shipper by the railroad company in this instance was not a through contract whereby the railroad company agreed to transport the freight in controversy to Philadelphia. The judgment of the Court below that the receipt did constitute such through contract was reversed and the case remonded for a new trial.

his admirable home manship—visited Vienna, his horse, one of the best in the imperial stables, was so atterly unmanageable that he had in his great mortification, to take his seat in a carriage. riage. A groom, since discharged from the Emperor's service, now confesses that he, by cruelly flogging the horse on showing him white plumes such as the king wore, had been the author of the difficulty. -A traveler in Frence awkose conscience would not allow him to use strong language, found, that at the hotel where he was staying other waiters had been so accustomed to hear linglishmen do so that they set him down as a milk-sop and neglected him accordingly. He therefore hit upon this expedient to se-cure a proper amount of extention: Whenever he gave an zerder he rolled out in sonorous tones the words, "North-umberland, Cumberland, Durham." The effect was marvelous.

-Lord Derby has doubtless many a time chuckled over his segacity in sell-ing his fine Tipperary estates before the troubles there began. His father left to his younger son rord Derby's only brother -Col. Stanley, Beaconfield's War Secretary, the choice between $500,000 and the Irish property. He took the former. Lord Deby, on receiving the latter, sold it for $800,000 to a rich Dublin merchant. The tenants sent a deputation to knowsley, entreating Lord Derby not so soll, but he said he must do so, because he coulc not live in Ireland and would not be an absentee landlord.

-While driving recently from Godollo to a hunting meet, near the Hungarian village of Magoroyd, the Impress of Austria saw an old woman immost on the edge of a high bank overhanging a rapid stream. Without uttering a word to any one, her Majesty, sprang out of the carriage and ran to the poor creature, whom she overtook just in time to save her from falling into the river. It turned out that the old woman was blind, and the mere child who acted as her guide lagged behind. When the little girl came up the Empress gave her a scolding and the old woman a handsome gratuity. valued were

-At a recent School Board meeting in London, the Lord Mayor allowed each candidate a tharter of an hour's speaking. Sir John Bennett was the first to speak, and when he had gone through his fifteen minutes the Lord Mayor brought down his hammier. "Is time up?" inquired Sir John. "It is." "Not yet I think, my Bord Mayor," insinuated Sir John. " That so," replied the Lord Mayor! "I have two minutes more by my consich," said Sir John, "and you can always depend upon my watch." This nest advertise-ment was received, with considerable merriment. Sir John is a notable clock-maker. maker.
